FIVE CENTS

THE FIGHTING IN KOREA GOES ON AND ON. These two scenes are typical of the situation in far-away battleground today. Top photo—it's a lonesome road as troops of the U. S. 40th infantry Division trudge down a gloomy road on their way to the front to relieve other GIs who have earned a rest. This is another winter, another mountain range, but to riflemen the scene is a familiar one. Bottom—A roundup of civilian Communist guerrillas behind United Nations lines in Korea netted this bag of prisoners, shown marching through Chong-gu on their way to a prison camp.

Reds Charge U. N. Massacred Prisoners In Riot At Camp

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Communists today accused the United Nations of "barbarously massacring large numbers" of prisoners in the U. N. prison camp on Kojie Island.

The latest massacre fully testifies to the brutal inhumanity with which your side treats our personnel captured by your side," said Col Tsai Chen-Wen.

Jet Dogfight Produces 7th American Ace

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A jet fight over North Korea today cost the Reds one MIG-15 fighter plane and produced a new American jet ace.

The new ace is Maj. William T. Whisner of Shreveport, La.

He brought his MIG total to five and one-half kills just in time to save a fellow pilot, Maj. Donald E. Adams of Mount Clemens, Mich., whose plane had been hit and couldn't avoid enemy fire.

Whisner knocked down the Red swept-wing fighter in a battle between 34 U.S. Sabre jets and 40 Red MIGs. Two other MIGs were damaged in the fight.

Has Damaged Six

Five kills make a pilot a jet ace. Whisner is credited also with damaging six MIGs. His latest kill came on his 84th mission.

Whisner joined Maj. Richard D. Ceighton of Baton Rouge, La., as the only active jet ace in Korea. Five other pilots have become jet aces in the Korean war but they have either returned to the U.S. or died in action.

Allied warplanes ran up a score of at least 10-0 in their swirling jet battles with Communist MIGs over North Korea last week, U.S. Fifth Air Force said today.

U.N. pilots claimed 10 MIGs destroyed, one probably destroyed and nine damaged. No U.N. planes were lost in air action.

Groundfire Takes Toll

But Red groundfire took another heavy toll. The Air Force's weekly summary said Communists anti-aircraft fire knocked down five Allied planes. Five others failed to return from flights over Red Korea.

A spokesman said the pilots of some planes destroyed by groundfire were rescued.

Fifth Air Force planes Saturday swept through clearing skies in 265 sorties by noon. They cut trails in 29 places.

The ground front was quiet, even for these days of twilight war. The biggest action across the front involved only a few Red patrols.

Snow fell all along the front, but temperatures were relatively mild.

Born Oct. 28, 1867, he was the son of Archelaus and Martha Bishop Pearce. His wife, Mable Rupert Pearce, died Aug. 19, 1945. He was the last of his immediate family.

He had lived in Salem 20 years, coming from Damascus where he had operated the Damascus Hotel and Livery for many years. His father was a carriage maker in Damascus.

Survivors include a son, Walter, of Canton and a daughter, Mrs. Alfaretta McDermott of Rochester, Pa., and four grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home, with interment in Grandview cemetery.

2 Youths Held In Fatal Cafe Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—A cafe owner who did not believe it was a "stickup" was shot and killed early today in a West Side bar.

Blaine Orser, 48, of suburban Bay Village, was helping out behind the bar when two youths attempted to rob his place.

One pointed a gun at him and said, "This is a stickup. Keep your hands at your side."

"You're fooling," Orser replied, jumping over the bar and pushing the gunman towards the door. He grappled at the door with the two youths.

A shot went into the ceiling. Customers dived under tables. Two more shots were fired, hitting Orser in the chest and stomach.

Joseph P. Kasper, 33, who was standing by the bar, was hit in the mouth and seriously wounded.

Mrs. Marian Mayle, wife of a bartender, took down the license number of the getaway car and police later arrested Donald B. Peterson, 20, and Richard S. Horvath, 18. Police said both had signed statements admitting the attempted robbery. They quoted Peterson as saying Horvath fired the fatal shots.

Mrs. Charlotte Orser, 45, was in the cafe and saw her husband shot down.

If Truman Doesn't Run

Kefauver, Kerr Showdown Fight Seen Over Presidency

(Associated Press)
A showdown fight for the Democratic presidential nomination appeared in the making today between Senators Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma—provided President Truman decides not to run.

But Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Vice President Barkley still were prominent in the speculation.

Kerr gained strength by apparently lining up Democratic leaders in his own state behind a "favorite son" campaign. Senator Monroney (D., Okla.) said he would not oppose Kerr, and Gov. Johnston Murray is expected to issue a statement supporting him.

Carl V. Rice, Kansas national committeeman and a Kerr backer, has claimed Kerr will gain Oklahoma's 24 delegation votes and enough others to have 200 before convention time.

The first big test between Kefauver and Kerr will come in Nebraska's primary April 1.

Kerr's chances depend partly on when Truman announces his plans. The Oklahoma says he will back the President if he runs. On the other hand, Kefauver says he will seek the nomination regardless of Truman.

Senator McMahon (D., Conn.), a Truman supporter, said Stevenson and Barkley were the two leading alternates to the President.

Campaigning in Ohio yesterday, Kefauver suggested "Congress could really assume control of the nation's purse strings" through the aid of a budget commission working with Congress.

He praised the President's stand on Korea and said, "our foreign policy is right in taking a stand with the nations of Western Europe." But he added:

"When we give aid to foreign nations we must explain what we expect in return—a unification of military service."

Senator Taft of Ohio, campaigning in Vermont for the Republican presidential nomination, said the administration foreign policy is "as likely to produce war as peace."

He said he would reorganize

15 Killed, 20 Hurt In Jet Plane Crash

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Fifteen persons were killed and 20 injured when an F-84 Thunderjet crashed into a power plant, then careened into a hospital and four houses yesterday, an Army spokesman disclosed today.

The crash was at Sadukni, about 12 miles northwest of the southeast Korean port.

Col. T. C. Green of Austin, Tex., commander of the U.N. Civil Assistance Command for the Kyongsang Namdo district, said the American pilot and 14 Korean civilians were killed. Among the dead were at least two women and a baby.

One estimate placed the property damage at $100,000 dollars.

Witnesses said the speedy jet fighter apparently developed engine trouble.

The plane knifed completely through the hospital, and blazing jet fuel set the four houses afire. All six buildings were a total loss.

Local Voter Education Plan Discussed By Chamber Speaker

The "Ohio Plan" can bring better government to Salem, the state, and the nation, Edward Mullen, public relations director of the Ohio Plan Association told 2 Chamber of Commerce members at a luncheon Friday in the Lape Hotel.

Urging local adoption of the plan, Mullen said it operates through education of the people as to how government operates and during the election campaigns, on the qualifications of the candidates.

The plan is non-partisan, he added. Voters are told through weekly bulletins issued by local business and industrial leaders what the campaign issues are and what records the candidates have.

Through this seemingly simple plan, voters can be depended on to make the correct choices at the polls and government will quickly be bettered, Mullen said.

Two Guilty In $1,600,000 Bank Overdraft

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Jackson M. Potter, a real estate broker, and Bernard E. Klock, a former Syracuse Trust Company bookkeeper, have been convicted of conspiracy and misapplication of bank funds in a $1,600,000 overdraft scheme.

A federal court jury of eight men and four women last night found them guilty on 22 counts of misapplication of bank funds and one count of conspiracy.

Judge James T. Foley will sentence the two Wednesday.

Each count carries a maximum five years in jail and $5,000 fine.

The government accused Potter, 52, and Klock, 37, of having an agreement whereby $1,600,000 in checks drawn by the realtor against inadequate balances were paid by the Trust Company, but not recorded in its books.

Potter admitted during his trial that he had overdrawn his account, but denied that he had conspired with Klock to do so.

Paul R. Shanahan, a defense attorney, declared in his summation that "the real basis of this (case) was carelessness, negligence and gross maladministration of this bank."

Klock and another former bank bookkeeper, 29-year-old Leslie Root Jr., were indicted in June with Potter and 16 other depositors.

The bank said a total of $2,400,000 in overdrafts was involved.

Root has pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy. In an earlier trial, Klock was convicted on a charge of making false entries in the bank's books. The 16 depositors are awaiting trial.

Transportation Strike Ends In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Cable cars, trolleys and buses are rolling again on San Francisco streets. A strike which had immobilized the municipal transportation system for the past three days ended at midnight.

The strike ended last night when members of the AFL Carmen's Union unanimously approved a settlement their officers reached with city officials after Superior Judge Albert C. Wollenberg granted injunctions to both the city and the union.

The injunctions ordered the carmen to remove their pickets, because state law forbids strikes against government agencies, and the city was to observe the city charter which sets maximum hours for railway workers at eight hours of work within 10 consecutive hours.

Unity Man Dies Fighting Fire

Chauncey Funkhouser Found Dead In Cellar

Chauncey S. Funkhouser, 65, of Unity, died at his residence at 1:15 a. m. today following his efforts to extinguish a minor blaze which was caused by an overheated furnace in his basement.

Cause of death has not been ascertained yet. Authorities say it could have been due to a heart attack, asphyxiation or electrocution, resulting when an air pipe which he had ripped from the furnace struck wet electric wires.

According to Sheriff Howard Clark, Mr. Funkhouser had been awakened in the middle of the night by smoke emerging from the basement of his combination general store-service station home. He discovered the fire and extinguished it with water but collapsed after he pulled the air pipe from the heater. Mrs. Funkhouser was at home at the time of the tragedy.

A neighbor called the East Palestine Volunteer Fire Department whose attempts to resuscitate Mr. Funkhouser proved futile. The East Palestine police operator summoned Sheriff Clark.

County Coroner E. R. Sturgis is conducting an investigation.

Mr. Funkhouser was born Sept. 10, 1886 in Beaver Falls, Pa., the son of Isaac N. and Margaret Ferguson Funkhouser. He married Nora Bush June 11, 1949.

He was a resident of the Unity area for 22 years and was a member of the Church of Christ in East Palestine.

Besides his wife he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Verne Kusic of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Winifred Dutch of Brookfield, O., and one grandchild.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home in East Palestine. Burial will be in Brunstetter Cemetery at Austintown.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p. m. Monday.

Allies Believe Sum Won't Bring Economic Ruin

Cost To Be Spread Over 3-Year Period Ending With 1954

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The Atlantic Allies lay down today a carefully drawn plan to tap Western taxpayers for 300 billion dollars for anti-Communist arms—a sum they believe can be scraped up without bringing economic ruin.

The cost will be spread over the three years ending with 1954 and is equal to $750 apiece for each of the 400,000,000 people in the 12 original Atlantic Pact nations.

During the morning, the Western defense ministers reached final agreement on several amendments to the draft plan—mostly in the wording upon which W. Averell Harriman's Temporary Council Committee (TCC) and the Allied Chiefs of Staff already had agreed.

The council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is expected to give final endorsement to the plan today.

Months of tense study by economic experts—the so-called 12 wise men headed by U.S. Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman—went into its preparation. All the governments involved were consulted repeatedly.

The plan forms an economic tightrope for many of the hard-up European nations. Many had to increase their arms spending, and the 1954 armament goals were reduced slightly, to make ends meet under the plan.

It set down ways and means to finance an army that is meant to include 30 front line divisions and 20 in immediate reserve by the end of 1952, with planned expansion to some 88 divisions by the end of 1954.

Included in the plan is a network of air bases reaching from the arctic to the equator, communications, ships, tanks, guns, ammunition, uniforms, barracks and such like.

The plan also provides: NATO governments must put airfield construction ahead of many other budgetary items to make sure the nearly 200 air bases in West Europe are finished on time.

Arms production to be speeded. National resources—men, ma-

What A Friend We Have In Jesus

A Carpenter and The Lord Write a Hymn Together

Grief fell over the town of Lake Rice, Canada. One of the community's most beloved citizens was dead. Some believed his death was accidental. But the poor people—those who knew him best—wondered if their friend had taken his life!

Joseph Scriven was born in Dublin in 1820. He was educated on the Emerald Isle and graduated from Trinity College. He was a youth of high ideals and a beautiful lass has set the day when she would share his high hopes. Then tragedy struck. The day before the wedding the body of the young Irishman's bride-to-be was pulled from a pool of water where she had accidentally drowned.

Scriven never overcame the shock. At twenty five he migrated to Canada in the hope of forgetting. But he never forgot. For forty years the melancholy man associated himself only with the poor. He worked at simple labor but refused employment from those who were able to pay. Most of his time was spent sawing wood and doing patch carpentry for widows and the sick.

One day when he was ill an attending neighbor found a poem in his room. Questioned as to the authorship, Scriven replied, "The Lord and I wrote it between us."

It was October 10, 1856, and Joseph Scriven was dead. Like his sweetheart of years ago, his body was pulled from a pool of water. Whether he died of his own design didn't really matter. His neighbors built a monument to his memory. Not because he had written a famous hymn but because he had devoted his life to the poor.

The hymn Scriven said he and the Lord wrote together was . . .

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear!
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer!

O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Have we trials and temptations,
Is there trouble anywhere?
We should never be discouraged,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Can we find a friend so faithful
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our every weakness,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Are we weak and heavy-laden,
Cumbered with a load of care,
Precious Saviour, still our refuge,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Do thy friends despise, forsake thee?
Take it to the Lord in prayer
In His arms He'll take and shield thee,
Thou wilt find a solace there.

50 Scholars Compile Bible Encyclopedia

(AP Newsfeatures)

JERUSALEM — Six thousand seven hundred articles on the Old Testament are being written by 50 Jewish scholars in Israel. They have set themselves the task of compiling the first Bible Encyclopedia in Hebrew—the language in which the book of books found its first form.

The new great collective enterprise reminds one of the famous effort of 72 aged and learned rabbis who, in Alexandria, at about 250 B. C. translated the Bible from Hebrew to Greek. Legend has it that the 72 wise men, who had been summoned by Ptolemy Philadelphus, completed their work — the Septuagint—in 70 days. Helped by the same divine inspiration, each had produced an identical translation although each had worked isolated in his cell.

The 50 modern Hebrew scholars hope to finish their job in five years. First of all, it is a job of Biblical interpretation and explanation. But in one respect it is a work of translation as well: an English version of the Hebrew Encyclopedia is now being prepared.

Both editions are to be published by the Mossad Bialik (Bialik Fund) of the Jewish Agency in Jerusalem and will comprise five volumes each. The first volume (in Hebrew) is already on the market—or, actually, off the market: all copies were bought up as soon as they appeared. Also forthcoming volumes have been bought up by eager Biblical students in advance. Moshe Gordon, the director of the Bialik Fund, told The Associated Press.

The editorial board of the encyclopedia is headed by the archeologist, Prof. E. L. Sukenik of Hebrew University, famous for deciphering Biblical manuscripts found by Beduins in a cave near the Dead Sea and reputed to be more than 2,000 years old.

The five volumes will deal with all biblical events up to the beginning of the Hasmonian (Maccabean) rule in 140 B. C. Included in the contents will be everything connected with the evolution of the Bible and research on it; everything connected with the Apocrypha and other post-Biblical writings as far as they pertain to the Old Testament; and finally everything on the archeology, geography, history, folklore, culture and civilization of ancient Israel and the Middle East — so far as it reflects on Biblical history.

RFC Loan Being Probed By Justice Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reconstruction Finance Corporation said today the Justice Department is investigating a $400,000 loan to Skybrook Farms of Hendersonville, N. C. Solis Horwitz, RFC general counsel, said the firm went into receivership shortly after the loan was made several years ago.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Be Sophisticated

ONE DAY, a few years ago, I was sitting out under the trees on my New York State farm to which I retreat whenever I find an opportunity. It's too far from the city for us to have many callers but, on this particular occasion, the quiet was broken by a strange car coming up our driveway. I saw that my visitors were a man and his wife whom I knew slightly. They parked the car and explained that the husband had come over to have a chat with me. I suggested that the wife go inside the house to visit with Mrs. Peale and that the man stay out with me under the trees.

He sat down, turned to me and said, "You're looking at one of the most discouraged individuals you ever saw in your life."

I knew his story to some extent. He had been editor of one of our most important magazines, but had been let out. A so-called intellectual, he continued to figure in the gossip columns and in conversation as one of the most sophisticated men of our time. But he was having a great deal of personal difficulty.

"I'M JUST ABOUT as low as a man can get," he told me. "I've had two heart attacks, one of them rather severe and the other somewhat less so. The bad one put me flat on my back on the floor; the other merely put me into a chair. And, to make things worse, my wife is very sick and is just wasting away before my eyes. The doctors say that medicinally they're doing all that can be done, but that what she needs is a new spirit of faith to carry her through it. What can I do?"

"Well," I answered, "your problems can be solved, but I don't think you can do it. You're too intellectual. You're too sophisticated in the sense you like to use that word. You just aren't simple enough. I don't believe you have the capacity for faith."

He jumped up. "You've got me wrong. You don't realize how simple I am underneath it all. Most of my sophistication is a pose I thought I needed to get along. I used to be awed by those I thought were sophisticated, but I got over that a long time ago. What do you want me to do?"

"I WENT INTO the house and came out with a Bible. 'Do this, and this, and this, and this and this,' I told him.

"Will you give me that Bible?" he asked.

"Certainly," I said, and I underlined the things I'd told him to do. "But you'll never do them."

"How do you know?" was his answer.

Well, he did do them. He and his wife studied the spiritual life intently and applied every spiritual technique. I saw his wife only recently; she is strong, vital and healthy. The doctor says she is a well woman. He hasn't had another heart attack since he took the Bible from me. He lives in New England now, has become active in the local church and has practically revitalized that whole community. He knows the Bible so well these days that he reads my sermons and corrects me on many of my Scripture quotations.

WHAT HAPPENED TO HIM? The answer may seem strange, but it is simply that he acquired a sounder sophistication. He learned his way around in this world. A sophisticated person is one who is worldly-wise. It has nothing to do with being fashionable or in society or seen in the right places. It applies to the acquisition of real wisdom about living in this world of ours.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Premier Soekiman's 10-month-old coalition government resigned to President Soekarno today. The resignation of the young republic's third government in its 26 months of independence became inevitable after Soekiman's own party, the Moslem Masjumi, decided last night to withdraw its support over the burning issue of accepting U. War Widow Gets
Check For Penny

A Korea war widow—niece of Dr. C. E. McElwee of Salem—is slightly bewildered today over a government check she has received for exactly one cent.

Mrs. Barbara McElwee of Columbus received the check from the Marine Supply Depot, and the comely mother is at a loss to explain it.

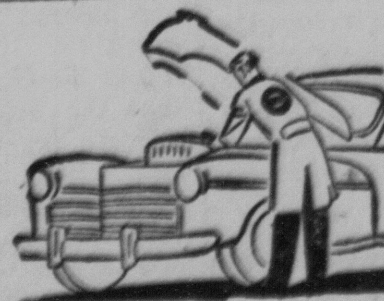

Whether it is for a penny found in the effects of her late husband, First Lt. Stanley D. McElwee, killed Dec. 8, 1950, or for foreign currency, Mrs. McElwee says she can only guess.

Her problem now is what will happen when she tries to cash it. She says she may be charged five cents to get her penny and if she refused to cash the check the government won't be able to balance the books.

It Had Better Be Good

MILITARY and civilian users of steel and all wage earners without escalator clauses to help them through inflation have been given another reprieve by United Steelworkers. This is the second one since the beginning of the new year. The union's contract with the steel industry expired at the close of 1951. But there will be no strike until at least March 23.

There will be, of course, no sacrifice by United Steelworkers. Whatever arrangement is made in behalf of its members by the Wage Stabilization Board will be retroactive to Jan. 1. The longer the expected wage raise and boost in fringe benefits can be held off, the longer will be the delay in the new spurt of inflation which will follow this further cheapening of the dollar.

All arguments to the contrary notwithstanding, that is the only possible result of rejuvenging production costs in the steel industry—more inflation. That result could be averted by only one thing—a corresponding increase in the efficiency of production. No such increase is possible.

The Wage Stabilization Board is now digesting about a million words of testimony in the steel wage dispute. It is forbidden by law to consider any case involving workers on strike; that is why there neither has been nor is likely to be a steel strike.

Philip Murray and his union have confidence in WSB. It will find a way to add still further to the inflation while giving the whole thing an appearance of logic. Organized labor never has been disappointed in a government board yet when it came to finding a reason for rejuvenging wage rates.

Eisenhower's 'Friends'

THIS SEEMS to be a proper time to remember that four years ago Gen. Eisenhower was being run for a presidential nomination just as hard as a number of his "friends" could run him.

All of them had the same thing in mind, whether they were Republicans or Democrats. They wanted to use him to head off someone else. His Republican "friends" in New Hampshire finally became so insistent that the general wrote his famous letter withdrawing himself from that state's primary and from politics in general.

But that did not discourage his Democratic "friends," who wanted to use Gen. Eisenhower to head off Harry Truman. They boomed him as a possible nominee right up to the last minute—until the general, himself, repeated what he previously had told Republicans: He was not available.

Among the better known Democrats who mashed their fingers when the Eisenhower boom collapsed were Frank Hague, William O'Dwyer, James Roosevelt, Jacob Arvey and Claude Pepper. Also disconsolate were William Green, Philip Murray, Daniel J. Tobin and Ohio's Jack Kroll, who wanted to stop Truman with Eisenhower.

Gen. Eisenhower, himself, must have gaged at the antics of his "friends," all of whom professed to be able to read his mind. He knew exactly what they were up to; that they were not his friends at all but politicians trying to use him for their special purposes.

In 1952 he has new "friends," but their antics are the same.

They are still hoping to use Gen. Eisenhower to stop someone—Sen. Taft this time.

Quinn's Rule

"TRUMAN licked me," admitted the Democratic loser in a special congressional election in New York's Fifth District last Tuesday. "I lost out against the scandals in the national administration."

The candidate, Hugh Quinn, declared that he could not separate his own campaign from the voters' determination to drag in the issue of Trumanism. Thus, according to Quinn's rule, the least desirable presidential candidate for organization Democrats in 1952 would be Harry Truman.

For the appointed Democrats foisted on Mr. Truman by labor unions and held over from the leftist outfits which loaded up the government bureaucracy while Roosevelt lived, a Truman renomination is imperative. It is their only chance to survive, barring the possibility Mr. Truman might dictate the nomination of a successor who would make no changes.

But old-line organization Democrats owe nothing to these people. The Solid South began to break away from them in 1948, and the North would follow in a hurry if it became evident that the only way to save the organization was to clean house—the White House.

A secret is the shortest distance between two women.

Going To Retire?

By JAMES MARLOW

Talk Things Over At Social Security Office

IF YOU'RE nearing 65 and thinking of retiring, you may save yourself money the rest of your life by first talking over your case at the nearest social security office.

That goes for two kinds of workers: People who are employed and the self-employed. Some of the self-employed, as you'll see near the end of this story, have a special problem of their own.

Here are a few points to keep in mind:

No one retiring before July 1 will ever get a social security pension larger than $68.50. Since a wife's pension is half that of her husband, the maximum for a couple retiring before July 1 will always be $102.75.

If you retire after July, and are entitled to the maximum, you can get as much as $80. Since your wife at 65 will get half that much, or $40, a couple retiring after July 1 could draw as much as $120 a month for life.

By law social security pensions until July 1 will range from a minimum of $20 to a maximum of $68.50. After that, while the minimum remains, any retiring worker, of course, gets only the pension to which he's entitled. And that depends on several things: The number of quarters—a quarter is a three-month period—he's worked in a job covered by social security; his earnings, and so on.

So, although the present maximum pension is $68.50, the average worker—simply because he's average—won't get that much if he retires now. The average pension now is running around $42 a month.

AND THE AVERAGE worker retiring after July 1 won't be entitled to that future maximum of $80. The average pension for those retiring after July 1 will run much less than $80, perhaps a $50 or so a month.

Many workers now around 65—because they already have enough covered quarters to their credit since the social security law went into effect Jan. 1, 1937—could retire today and be entitled to some kind of pension.

But, since each worker's problem is just a little different from that of anyone else, each man thinking of retiring has a question to face: In my particular case, even though I quit now and get a pension, will I benefit by waiting until after July 1?

And for the self-employed people the problem is a little more complicated.

Until Jan. 1, 1951, only employees were covered by social security. Since that date about four or five million self-employed people have come under the coverage.

But some of those who have been self-employed since Jan. 1, 1951, were, for many years before then, employees of others. As such they worked in covered jobs for many quarters since social security went on the books Jan. 1, 1937.

FOR THAT REASON many people presently self-employed could retire now at 65 and draw a pension based on the credits they acquired in those years when they worked as employees.

But a number of those now self-employed never were under social security until Jan. 1, 1951. They can't retire and get a pension until they've built up enough social security credits.

The period between Jan. 1, 1951—when the self-employed first came under social security—and July 1, 1952, is 18 months, or six quarters. A person with no previous coverage needs 18 months of it to get a pension.

A self-employed person could retire July 1, 1952, and get some pension but would make out better on the size of his pension if he waited until after July 1, 1953, to retire.

Thus the problem of a person now self-employed and with social security credit before Jan. 1, 1951, is a little different from that of an employee.

That's another reason why a person now nearing 65 and thinking of retiring should go over his individual case with the people at his nearest social security office. In Salem it's at the post-office. It's one way of being sure you know what you're doing about retiring.

Favorite Sons

By TRUMAN TWILL

AN ordinary voter—X marks the spot—keeps reading about the favorite sons whose names are going to be placed in nomination by the great state of Boredom and gets to thinking.

He gets to thinking about these favorite sons.

Specifically, he gets to thinking about which man he'd pick for the White House if anyone gave him a pick. He thinks about the specifications for a citizen big enough to fill the job.

And he thinks about Abraham Lincoln, whose specifications once were judged to be so skimpy that his own associates chuckled about how unrepresentative he talked and acted.

He thinks about George Washington, whose name has been sullied by a sad connotation of the word when it refers to the city named in his honor. George Washington, having knocked himself out to bring a new country into existence, didn't see why he should knock himself out trying to administer to it as a fledgling. But he did.

Washington was a man of duty. Lincoln was a man of devotion and great humility.

Neither was capable of guile. They were accused of many faults during their public careers, and both had faults. But one of their faults was not insincerity, which lately has become the most serious charge against the chief executive officer of the United States.

People just don't know any more when the presidential tongue is in the presidential cheek. They cannot bet their last dollar that a George Washington will fight to the last ditch or that an Abe Lincoln will not change horses in the middle of the stream. Cynics will point out that Americans never could bet their last dollar with any certainty of winning, but the retort to that is that Americans once were able to bet it with less certainty of losing.

Cool Place

Present plans are to hold three meetings of the full North Atlantic Treaty Council in a year. One of these meetings would be held in the United States, two in Europe. After the conference at Lisbon, Portugal, in February, the next session would be in June or July.

Since last November's meeting was held in Rome, the U.S. would normally be expected to be host at the next session.

But Washington in June and July isn't too comfortable and the political temperature here will be even higher. So the mid-summer meeting will probably be held in some place like Norway.

A huge meteorite, brought back from the Arctic regions by Peary, had served the natives for centuries as their only source of iron.

Among the favorite sons, fellow countrymen, let us carry on some tapping with sledge-hammers to discover which ones are solid all the way through and which ones sound hollow.

Let us discard all facsimiles of "prominent persons" and retain only the genuine two-legged types whose honesty and integrity are proved by the record.

Let us refuse to go along with malarkey about white hopes unless there is something in the record to prove that the fair-haired boy from the state of Boredom has proved that he is not wearing a wig.

Let us ask ourselves several dozen times what the facts are, in case they may be in conflict with the hooray.

They call all this the Great Game of Politics. But it's a game that Americans play for keeps. They build memorials to the politicians who come up to and sometimes exceed the expectations of their fellow citizens.

So there should be some delicacy about mentioning a favorite son as if it were a plug for somebody's beer. A favorite son should be somebody's favorite. If fate taps him for the ultimate honor, he shouldn't turn out to be an empty keg.

The next politician who talks about a favorite son who is nobody's favorite should have his mouth rinsed out.

Pressure On Joint Chiefs of Staff

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WHEN Senator Taft said the other day that he had no confidence in the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the remark occasioned a good deal of speculation as to just what the Ohio senator had in mind.

Did he mean that he didn't trust the military ability of the members of the Joint Chiefs, or was he attacking the existing system whereby the military judgment of these men may be subordinated to administration pressure and political demands?

It develops that what the senator had in mind is related to some official testimony given in March 1950 before a senate subcommittee on appropriations.

General Bradley, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, was testifying on the military budget of about $13,000,000,000 and was saying:

"I emphasized . . . that the eventual strength of our country depends upon its industrial capacity. We must not destroy that by spending too much from year to year. So if we came here and recommended to you a $30,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000 budget for defense, I think we would be doing a disservice and that maybe you would get a new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff if I were the one who did that."

MR. TAFT'S VIEW is that this very testimony was given to Congress less than two years ago and that either the Joint Chiefs did not know what to recommend for the defense of the United States and for carrying out its obligations, or else they failed to exercise their own judgment and catered to some other judgment.

It is the Ohio senator's position that the Joint Chiefs failed to prepare for the Korean emergency. But the testimony also shows the following colloquy between Senator Wherry of Nebraska and General Bradley:

"Senator Wherry: This figure of 13.1 billion dollars came down as a directive from the President, didn't it?"

"General Bradley: Yes, sir, because every year, as you know better than I, the President, in making up the total, over-all budget which he submits to the Congress, gives to each department the amount which they can figure on. Our planning is based on those figures."

What Senator Taft is asking, in effect, is why the Joint Chiefs, who are known to have recommended a much higher budget that year, did not make known their views to Congress and let the country know that they felt a bigger budget was necessary. Otherwise, by acquiescing they were risking the safety of American military forces.

Senator Maybank of South Carolina, Democrat, made somewhat the same point when he argued for a 70-group air force.

"If we could afford it," said General Bradley, "I do wish that we had some more (air force strength)."

"General," replied Senator Maybank, "it is not a question of affording it. If the military really believes that it is necessary, that is a different story."

EARLIER in the same hearings, Senator Knowland of California raised the Korean issue. He said he had been talking with General Roberts of the American military mission and there was a confidence the South Koreans could give a good account of themselves "as against any indigenous invasion from the north by Koreans alone."

"Of course, it is a $64 question as to what would happen if the Chinese Communists were to move material and manpower to reinforce the North Koreans."

Mr. Knowland proceeded to outline the Communist strength in Asia and referred to a published statement of Soviet Union and satellite forces in the Far East of 5,235,000 men, whereas the non-Communist forces were believed to number only 1,315,000. "In other words," he remarked, "it is about a 4-to-1 ratio."

The California senator sought to draw from General Bradley some idea as to what America could do in a military way in the Far East in case of an emergency and asked if the members of the Joint Chiefs, who had just been out to the Far East, had gone to Korea. The general said they had not.

THE QUESTION naturally arises as to what preparations the Joint Chiefs made for the defense of American interests in the Far East. Senator Taft holds that the Joint Chiefs failed. The answer they probably would make is that the President didn't allow them adequate funds. And the answer to that point is that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are the top military command. Its members are not supposed to be economists or experts on the capacity of the citizens to pay taxes or on the disbursements for social welfare on which the administration may prefer to spend its money instead of on national defense.

The Ohio senator has made a striking point—unless the Joint Chiefs are prepared to render military judgment and to give to the country and particularly to Congress their judgment as to what must be spent for the safety of the nation and the protection of its interests abroad, there can be no confidence in the judgment of such a Joint Chiefs of Staff.

National Insurance Snarl

VETERANS' Administration will start paying its third National Service Life Insurance dividend in March, although payments on 1948 and 1951 dividends have not yet been completed.

Over 600,000 vets have not yet filed claims for 1948 dividend. VA is going over these cases again to try to locate ex-service men who have money coming to them and don't know about it.

Completion of 1951 dividend payment is fouled up in Department of Defense red tape.

Of the seven million policyholders eligible to share in this dividend, payments have been made to nearly all of the four million vets out of service.

On the three million policies held by men and women, still in service, over a million have been paid.

The nearly two million unpaid dividends have been held up by an act of Congress passed last year, known as public law 23.

It permits holders of permanent National Service Life Insurance policies and the temporary five-year term policies to apply for waiver of premium payment.

This was made necessary when Congress gave everyone in service up to $10,000 free insurance.

Service men who had been paying on their insurance by deduction of premium from their Army, Navy or Air Force pay must apply for the waiver to Veterans Administration, then notify their services to stop the allotment. It has taken from six to eight weeks to get these papers back to Washington.

VA must have both pieces of paper—the waiver application and the payroll deduction stop order—before it can start computing dividends. That's what has caused the snarl.

Urges Nation Go Slow

Editor, The News: The United States is mighty but its hidden dangers are mightier. Let us therefore watch our step. One grave danger confronting this nation is this: If we as a nation are willing to take onto ourselves the responsibilities of too much world leadership and taking on to ourselves too many world commitments, I can see no other way that a great nation can bring on its own deterioration.

No Junior Executives Live

NEW YORK

WHAT IS a junior executive?

You hear more and more about this character. But he seems to me a pretty mysterious and will-o'-the-wisp fellow, and I am not sure he really exists at all. I am beginning to think he is just a figment of somebody's imagination.

No one can tell me for sure what a junior executive really is, because nobody ever seems to have met one in the flesh.

Go up to anyone you know who works in an office for a living and ask, "Are you a junior executive?" He may flush with embarrassed pleasure or turn upon you in cold anger, but he is certain to answer, "Who, me? Of course not."

EVERYBODY has heard of junior executives, but nobody will admit he is one. That's why I don't think there really are any.

Opinion varies as to just what a junior executive is. Some people think of him as a fine, clean, modest, alert young man who has climbed the first rung of the ladder of success. Others see him as merely a young stuffed shirt, a petty office tyrant who tries to get ahead by aping the real executives.

That's part of the mystery of the junior executive—he's anything you want to believe he is: a would-be boss in rompers, or industry's new type Horatio Alger. And nobody seems to know for sure just what his job is except to sit around and wait for the senior executive to drop dead.

THE CLEAREST picture of these new toy tycoons of the business world is given in the magazine ads. You see two fine old senior executives discussing a busy young man seated at a desk in the background. One says, "I've got Bill there in mind for a top management job. He came to me and suggested, 'Let's switch to using Blotto typewriter ribbons.' Well, I did as he suggested, and that's why our business tripled last month. Keep your eye on Bill."

This romantic vision of the junior executive as a bright young man with simple, but overwhelmingly successful ideas is becoming more and more popular. Clothing is being designed to "give that junior executive look." Banks are pleading: "Are you the junior executive type? Borrow from us—anything from $50 to $100, more or less, payable back in two lifetimes." Even motor car models are now "styled for the junior executive."

BEFORE LONG girls' finishing schools are going to join the trend and give courses such as "The Junior Executive's Wife: Her Role in the Community."

As I see it, however, this present legend will someday become a reality. Sooner or later there will be created an actual live junior executive.

And I predict he will meet disaster by trying to live up to the rosy legend. It will happen like this:

He will marry an expensive junior executive wife, make a $5,000 junior executive bank loan and with it buy a junior executive suit and put up the down payments on a junior executive type house and a junior executive model car.

UNABLE TO LIVE on a junior executive salary, he will go up to his boss and say, "Why don't we switch to Blotto typewriter ribbons? It'll triple business."

Well, the boss will switch to Blotto typewriter ribbons and in three weeks the firm will be bankrupt, because nobody really can read letters written with Blotto typewriter ribbons.

The junior executive will be tossed out of his swivel chair, and he will lose his wife, his home and his car, and be forced to pawn his suit.

That's the danger of being a real-life junior executive. One lousy idea—and you're just the man in the street again.

Finland Picks Up 21 Points, Trails U.S. In Olympics

ALL ALONE IN THE LEAD—Road o' Gold gallops home ahead of the field in a race at Sunshine Park, Oldsmar, Fla., after tossing jockey Evan Anyon at gate. Anyon was unhurt.

Ski Race Win Puts Finns In Third Position

Americans Second To Germans In Bobsled, Figure Skating

OSLO (AP) — Tiny Finland took over the spotlight in the winter Olympics with a mighty surge that carried them into third place, not too far behind the runner-up United States squad.

The little nation with a population of slightly over 4,000,000 collected its second gold medal of the games today and picked up 21 points in the event, the women's 10 kilometer cross country ski race.

Lydia Videman's triumph, plus a second, third and fifth in the 6 1/4 mile grind, gave the hardy Finns a total of 62 points and moved them past Austria (58) into third place.

The U. S. is second with 84 1/2. Norway, the third country, has the team title wrapped up with 102 points, adding one in the women's race.

The Finns also held a substantial lead over the field at the three-quarter mark of the men's 40-kilometer (25 miles) ski relay, the only other final listed for the next to last day of competition. The last two events, the ski jump and the windup of the hockey tournament, will be held tomorrow. Official ceremonies will close out the games Monday night.

U. S. Excels in Hockey
Uncle Sam is expected to get five points at most in the hockey and nothing in the ski activities. The Finns could pull out second place if they get lucky in the remaining ski contests.

Miss Videman, a 28-year old typist who was married soon and who was probably making her last competitive appearance, won by 59 seconds over teammate Morja Hietamies. The victor was timed in 41 minutes, 40 seconds. The United States didn't have an entry in this race.

Miss Hietamies was timed in 42:39 followed by Siiri Rantanen, Finland, 42:50; Marta Nordberg, Sweden, 42:53; Sirkka Polkunen, Finland, 43:07 and Rakel Wahl, Norway, 44:54.

Ski Jumping Tomorrow
In tomorrow's ski jumping, the Finns are hoping that Tauno Luuro, who jumped 456 feet in Germany last year, and another teammate, will be able to whip the favored Norwegians.

The hockey tournament sorted itself out last night when Canada nipped Sweden, 3-2, in the final 20 seconds and took undisputed possession of the first place.

The Swedes, Americans and Czechs are tied in points for second but the Americans have the poorest goal average of the three. They won't finish lower than fourth—which would mean three points in the unofficial standings where first place counts 10, second place 5 and then 4-3-2-1. The Americans play Czechoslovakia tonight and Canada tomorrow.

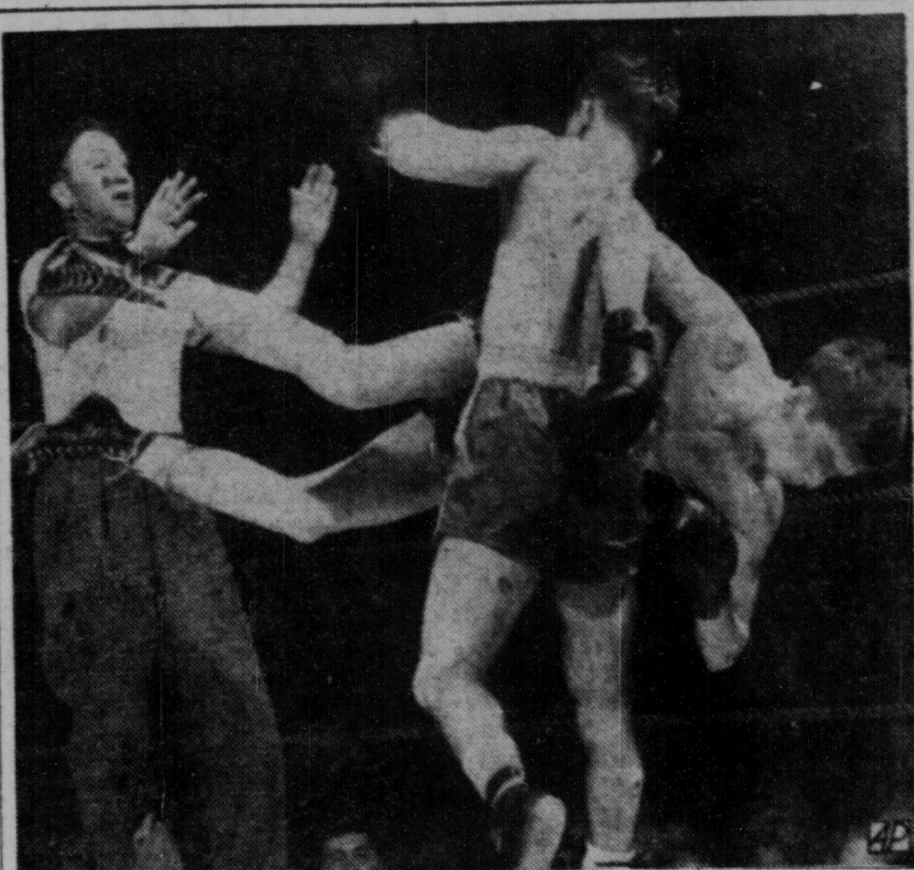

The United States was runner-up to Germany in both of yesterday's finals. The world champion German No. 1 sled driven by Andreas Ostler won the four man bobsled title with Stan Benham's U.S.A. 88 second. The same finish as in last week's two man bobs.

Paul and Ria Falk of Germany, world champion figure skating pair on both ice and roller skates won their first Olympic title with the Kennedy kids—Peter and Karol—from Seattle, Wash., second.

The other American pair, Janet Gerhauser of Minneapolis and John Nightingale of St. Paul, finished sixth, to give the U. S. 11 points for the day.

The complete scoring table to date: (All points are unofficial since the International Olympic committee refuses to recognize any team scores)

Norway 101; United States 84 1/2; Austria 58; Germany 48; Finland 41; Italy and the Netherlands 24; Switzerland 21; Sweden 14 1/2; Great Britain 13; Canada 8 1/2; France 7; Hungary 3; Belgium 1 and Japan 1/2.

FIGHTER TAKES A DIVE—Gerald McKeen of New Bedford, Mass., took a surprise dive when his haymaker missed Keith Bushey of Burlington, Vt., in their 118-pound New England Tournament of Champions boxing bout at Lowell, Mass. Referee Tommy Rawson, who awarded the decision to Bushey, steps aside to dodge the falling fighter. (AP Wirephoto).

Dudey Moore Speaker For Cage Banquet

Donald "Dudey" Moore, coach of the undefeated Duquesne Dukes of Pittsburgh, will be the speaker at the annual basketball banquet sponsored by the Salem Boosters Club.

Booster members inaugurated the sale of tickets Friday for the March 18 affair at the Memorial Building.

Moore, mentor of the only undefeated cage outfit in the nation, will take his Dukes to the NIT tourney in Madison Square Garden March 8 and will finish the competition on March 15, providing his team retains their undefeated reins in the driver's seat.

Booster President Jim Jackson hopes the Duquesne coach will attract many local basketball fans. Moore is known as a good speaker and should provide an evening's entertainment with many stories of his present and past Duke teams.

THE BANQUET is an annual presentation for the Boosters, as is the football banquet. The club has been able to produce many capable speakers in the past years, both at the football and basketball feasts.

President Jackson is confident that local cage fans will back the Boosters in presenting the banquet, especially with Moore on the program. Coach John Cabas will be on hand to award the senior cagers with their usual gold basketballs while Chet Tetlow and Ken Jacobs will introduce the Reserves and Frosh, respectively.

Doby, Greenberg Will Confer

Holdout Outfielder Expected To Sign

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Still unsatisfied with the pay offered, outfielder Larry Doby says he's coming here Sunday night to talk with the Cleveland Indians' general manager, Hank Greenberg.

That Doby is making the trip from his home in Paterson, N. J., seems to bear out Greenberg's insistence that he and Doby "will have no difficulty getting together once he arrives."

Doby wanted to attend the six-day batting school which opened Wednesday, but he thought a cut of about $5,000 from the $25,000 he earned last year was too drastic.

Only two other key Indians remain unsigned—pitcher Mike Garcia and second baseman Bob Avila. Each thinks he's entitled to a bigger raise than he has been offered. Greenberg expects them both to be on hand when the full squad opens drill Tuesday.

Veteran outfielder Sam Chapman, whom the Tribe obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics, has told Greenberg he is not coming here. Chapman, who is 35, wants to play in the Pacific Coast League close to his San Rafael, Calif., home and has asked for his release.

Doby's absence from "swat seminar" may give Manager Al Lopez and Greenberg a yardstick to evaluate the experiment. They can compare how quickly he reaches batting form with the pace of, for instance, regulars Jim Hegan and Ray Boone, who have had the full course, from blackboards to homer work.

North Topples Clippers; Lisbon Drops Palestine

Two county games were played last night, the Lisbon Blue Devils at East Palestine's court and Youngstown North playing on the Columbiana floor.

The Blue Devils managed to score their 12th victory of the season with an eight-point margin win, 60-52, but the Clippers couldn't hold off the powerful North cagers as they lost, 56-54.

LISBON and East Palestine played even ball during the first frame, the Blue Devils holding a one-point lead, 15-14, at the end of the quarter. The second quarter

Iowa Invades Champaign To Meet Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Tenseness gripped this university city today as the invading Iowa Hawkeyes, determined to break a jinx that has kept them without a basketball victory in Champaign since 1928, prepared for a Big Ten title showdown with Illinois.

Each team will enter tonight's game with 9-1 conference records. Although each will have three more games to play before ending its regular season, tonight's "natural" was looked upon as the championship clincher.

Railbirds figured the affair as just about a toss-up, but were inclined to lean slightly toward Illinois and its seemingly home floor invincibility against Iowa.

Iowa's only Big Ten loss, and also its only defeat in 18 games this season, was 82-69 at Indiana earlier this season. Illinois defeated the Hoosiers at Bloomington Saturday, 77-70.

The Illini's only league setback was to Iowa at Iowa City Feb. 9, by a 73-68 score. Their only other loss in 18 games was 69-65 to DePaul in Chicago stadium Jan. 26.

Third-place Minnesota (9-3), still nursing a chance at least to share the title, is host to Purdue tonight while Michigan is at Ohio State and Indiana at Wisconsin.

Squibb Is Leader As Stocks Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — E. R. Squibb, the pharmaceutical house with a producing interest in the new anti-tubercular agents, was a spectacular performer today in a generally higher stock market.

Squibb made a delayed opening up 3 3/4 at 30 1/2. Thereafter in fairly active trading it lost a portion of its best gain.

Squibb started its rise Thursday with a gain of 2 1/2.

Throughout the list the gains were fractions to between 1 and 2 points. Minus signs were scattered.

AEC Chairman Pleased With H-Bomb Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hydrogen bomb project is still top secret but the head of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee says cautiously he is "not dissatisfied" with its progress.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the group, told interviewers on a radio program (CBS) last night he could not give details yet.

But he said the atomic stockpile is so large that any attack by Russia now would be the "height of foolishness" on its part.

Man Wounds Policeman, Caught In Trailer

CELINA (AP) — Richard Myers, 25, who threatened to kill his wife's brother-in-law and wounded a Celina policeman in a gun battle last night was captured early today at his house trailer at nearby Coldwater.

Patrolman John Young, 28, was shot in the leg during a gun duel with Myers early last night. Young and two other patrolmen had been searching for the Celina man after a relative told police Myers had a gun and was threatening to kill Warren Anderson, his wife's brother-in-law.

United States To Get Tin From Indonesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indonesia was reported today ready to resume tin shipments to this country at the U. S. asking price of $12 1/2 cents a pound with the possibility of a higher price after this year.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), buyer of all tin for this country, halted Indonesian purchases when prices shot up last March.

Kidnapper Nabbed With Abducted Girl

MONTREAL (AP) — Three-year-old Barbara Nemeroff, kidnapped from her home last night, was recovered by police today.

Police said they discovered the tot walking along St. Catherine Street opposite Eaton's Department Store with a man.

The child, for whom the kidnaper had demanded a ransom of $50,000, was said to be safe and unharmed. Police arrested the man with whom she was walking.

Police said the man was in his early 20s. They did not identify him but said they believed he had worked for the child's father, Morris Nemeroff, a well-to-do leather goods manufacturer.

Police said they had received a telephone tip the man was in front of Eaton's with the child at the time. They overtook the man and the little girl about 10:35 a.m.

The tip to police came from a woman who had seen the little girl with the man and recognized them from the description which had been broadcast.

The girl and the man were taken immediately to detective headquarters and the parents of the child were summoned.

Reds Say U. S. Waging Germ War In Korea

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press charged today that the United States is waging bacteriological warfare on a large scale in Korea.

An article carried in all important papers, claimed that in the last two months, U. S. planes dropped flies, fleas, mosquitoes and other insects infected with cholera and the plague along the front and behind the Red lines. The papers attributed the report to medical personnel of the North Korean army.

American officials have denied similar charges by the Chinese Reds.

NATO

chines, metals and materials — need to be used more efficiently to stretch thin supplies. Coal, steel and metal production need to be boosted, and the Allies are urged to avoid scrambling with each other for scarce raw materials.

Some of the Allied nations short of manpower need to review immigration policies so they can use other countries' surplus men—such as Italy's two million unemployed.

The European nations need to increase their dollar earnings. One suggested method is to hurry construction of the air bases which would bring more U. S. spending in Europe.

The plan emphasizes more future attention be given to new weapons—a clear reference to atomic possibilities. The experts think some of these weapons will, cut down manpower needs and eventually lead to revision of present arms programs.

The entire plan underlines the idea that a substantial German contribution in men and material is needed to reach the arms goals the Allies have set.

The NATO Council yesterday took a big step in this direction by approving the French-sponsored plan for a European army under which German divisions would be used.

France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—the proposed European army partners—now can go ahead with their treaty to set up the army. It faces parliamentary hurdles in all countries. The stiffest ones are in France, which still fears German aggression, and in West Germany, which is demanding full equality in the alliance.

the State Department if elected. Speaking in East Liverpool Friday, Kefauver backed President Truman's stand on Korea.

"I want to praise President Truman and the Democratic party for having the courage to put strength into the United Nations by stopping the first aggression in Korea," he said. "If they (the Communists) had gotten by with the first act of aggression, we would have another and another and another."

In introducing Kefauver at East Liverpool, Rep. Wayne Hays, Kefauver's Ohio campaign manager, told the luncheon of Columbiana County Democrats he did not believe President Truman will be a candidate again.

In his bid for Ohio's convention delegates, Kefauver is bucking a slate of candidates endorsed by the Democratic state organization and pledged to former U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkey of Cleveland as a "favorite son" candidate.

Rush On Air Bases Said Cause Of Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force official told Senators today that the Joint Chiefs of Staff ordered rush construction of air bases in North Africa soon after the Communist attack in North Korea.

Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Edwin V. Huggins offered this explanation for the hurried aspects of the construction in testimony to the Senate preparedness investigating subcommittee. The Senators are digging into reports of waste and extravagance on the multi-million dollar costs of overseas airbases.

"This was an urgent job," Huggins said.

"The emergency was part of a decision by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Huggins indicated, but did not say directly, that top Pentagon leaders were apprehensive of a Communist drive in Europe or Africa after the Korean invasion in June, 1950.

The senators had developed earlier in the hearings that the Air Force asked speedy completion of five air bases in French Morocco within six months at an estimated cost of more than 300 million dollars.

That An Army Might Eat...

The First American Bank Was Founded

Washington's "Continental" were ragged and starving that historic winter of 1780 when the serious history of American banking began. To finance and supply them with rations, a group of Philadelphia citizens founded the Bank of Pennsylvania.

Our system of banking has gone through many changes since that eventful winter, but in a large sense our banks exist today for the same purpose that first bank was founded... that Americans may eat and live.

In this community you work, earn and bank your money that business may borrow in order to serve your needs—a circle in which it is First National Bank's privilege to serve both sides. Our pride in the part we play is one of your greatest safeguards.

TO THE PEOPLE OF SALEM:

We in the motion picture business see a lot of movies in a year's time! Some of thees pictures, we think, are worthy of an extra measure of consideration from the standpoint of what our patrons actually like and expect to see when they attend our theaters. It is hard to satisfy all the likes and tastes of the movie-going public in a single picture, and is seldom fully accomplished.

I, as a theater manager, hesitate to personally endorse a motion picture unless I am absolutely certain that our patrons, each and every one, will enjoy every moment of it. This I can heartily do with "ROOM FOR ONE MORE."

See it, judge for yourself and I fully guarantee my recommendation to you will be fully justified. "ROOM FOR ONE MORE" is one of the best family pictures of this or any other year. It will make you happier after seeing it!
